1. You Can Still Catch Me Dancing Lamp by Analuisa Corrigan

DM: I'd balance this out with something sheer.

RC: This brings to mind the work of Carmen D'Apollonio, whom I love.

13" w. x 24" h.;
$2,200.

2. Flora Sofa by Khaled El Mays

RC: I like its playfulness; I'd love to see it in leather. I think it would drastically alter the mood.

DM: The alligator shape is really appealing; it already feels familiar.

114" w. x 29.5" d. x 35.5" h.;
$23,000. nilufar.com

3. Playing Games Side Table by Marie Burgos

DM: A side table is a matter of balance; this looks as if it could be someone's portrait.

RC: This table feels like postmodernism shot through with classicism.

20" w. x 24" d. x 24" h.; $3,799.

4. DC 2004/2020 by Vincenzo De Cotiis

RC: I'm a big fan of this piece. De Cotiis creates surfaces that defy their specific materiality.

DM: This is really intriguing—I'd just add a tall, slim bouquet.

24" w. x 11.5" d. x 16.5" h.;
price upon request. carpentersworkshopgallery.com

5. Easca Coffee Table by Orior

DM: Everything about it is unique! It's like a piece of ice that won't melt.

RC: I think this could be interesting in a monochromatic space with otherwise very clean-lined furnishings.

60" w. x 35" d. x 16" h.;
$31,500. oriorfurniture.com

6. Standing Mirror by Floris Wubben

RC: It feels like a cousin to Sottsass's Ultrafragola mirror. Riffing on the classics doesn't appeal to me so much.

DM: This needs a room for itself, maybe at the end of a corridor.

34" w. x 77" h.; $16,560. thefutureperfect.com

7. Super Rock Hot Rug by CC-Tapis

DM: It's a perfect rug. I like the sense of perspective it would give a room.

RC: I think it's formally challenging. I'd use it in an entry hall or as the main event of a space, dictating its direction.

8' x 8'; $6,021. cc-tapis.com

8. 73.3 Multi-Light Pendant by Bocci

RC: This pendant suggests the fluidity of fabric, which I find compelling.

DM: It reminds me a bit of jellyfish; incorporate it in a dark environment to help it stand out.

16" w. x up to 120" h.; $2,055. lightology.com

9. Zenon Side Table by Elizabeth Garouste

DM: Use this in a garden, hidden among the vegetation: a surprising scene to highlight a corner.

RC: This is a strong piece, as casual and playful as it is elegant.

27.5" w. x 20" d. x 24" h.; $15,000. ralphpucci.com

10. Cashmere Moon Sofa by Les Ateliers Courbet

RC: It's organic without feeling wacky at all, which is a strength and an unusual accomplishment.

DM: Warm and friendly; juxtapose it with rough flooring, like terra-cotta.

142" w. x 47.5" d. x 31.5" h.; $49,700. ateliercourbet.com
